DETAILED ACTION

Response to Arguments

1. Applicant's arguments with respect to claims 7-9 and 17 have been considered but are moot in view of the new ground(s) of rejection.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

2. The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

3. Claims 7-9 and 17 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Bohlen et al. (USPN 4,513,203) in view of Kato et al. (USPN 4,912,313).
4. Regarding claim 7, Bohlen et al. teaches a beam adjusting sample having a flat surface (Note Fig. 4I), having two adjacent orthogonal edges where a microstructure is attached to the surface of the sample (Note Mask structure corresponding to elements "M" in fig. 4I, or layer Item 47 in Fig. 4G), and a film of gold having high electron stopping power is coated on a surface of the microstructure (Item 41).
5. Bohlen et al. fails to teach that the microstructure includes latex balls.
6. Kato et al. teaches a beam adjusting sample having a microstructure thereon comprising latex balls coated with gold. (Col. 2)

7. Kato et al. modifies the prior art apparatus of Bohlen et al. to produce a beam adjusting sample having a microstructure including latex balls thereon with a material having high electron stopping power coated on said microstructure.

8. It would have been obvious to one having ordinary skill in the art at the time the invention was made to include latex balls as part of the microstructure because such a structure advantageously prevents electrification of the sample, as set forth by Kato et al. at Col. 2. The rationale for obviousness is similarly applied to claims 8-9 and 17.

9. Regarding claim 8, Bohlen et al. further teaches that the sample is defined by two edges (Fig. 4I) and that a through hole penetrates in a thickness direction (Fig. 4I Item R).

10. Regarding claim 9, Bohlen et al. shows that two orthogonal edges are at an end of the beam adjusting sample in Fig. 4I.

11. Regarding claim 17, the through hole is formed at an angle of 90 degrees with respect to the surface of the sample in Fig. 4I.

Conclusion

12. Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

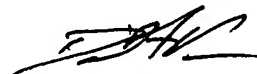

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
